As a land owner whose property is near the proposed route I am keenly aware of the impact this project presents to the New Hampshire countryside. I would have to live with the consequences of its construction and view forever its unmitigated ugliness. The noise, vegetation blight, ruination of our beautiful NH scenery, the impact on wildlife and denigrating of property values are of great concern. I do not believe that the number of jobs and power it would bring are reason enough to offset the projects destructive consequences. Once done it can never be undone. It would be a forever blight on the very essence of what NH is all about. I believe it would severely affect the tourism in this state and impact the economy in a thousand more ways that no one is talking about. The ONLY way I could even consider approving of this project is if it is decided to bury the ENTIRE route.
